Chief Executive Lashes Out Again at Democratic Foes in Address at Salt Lake City.

BY JOHN F. CHESTER. ON BOARD PRESIDENTIAL

SPECIAL AT ELKO, Nev., Nov. 7. (A)-With the parlor car of his train a brilliantly illuminated stage in this dim-lit Nevada valley, President Hoover tonight broadcast nation-wide his final campaign appeal-a deep conviction that for the welfare of the United States the republican party should continue to administer the government. He arrived here at 7:01 p. m., Pacific standard time, later continuing en route to his Palo Alto, Cal., home.

Cal., home.

While miners, sheepherders, cattle ranchers and part of the 3,000 population of this little town clustered about his car, the president told a larger audience of voters over the air that "the choice you make now is more than the choice for another four years."

"There is," he said, "great diver-"There is." he said, "great divergence in philosophy of government between the parties which may affect events over a generation. A mistaken choice may hazard the welfare of our children and our children's children. I have been fighting that the wrong course may not be adopted, not by appeal to destructive emotion but by truth and logic. I have tried to dissolve the mirage of promises by the reality of facts."

Processing farm products in rural districts is the next big objective in the combined drive for the regeneration of Georgia agriculture, now being conducted by the united forces of the State College of Agriculture, Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and the Georgia Bankers' Association.

This major aim was agreed on Monday at the Henry Grady hotel in a conference called by the agricultural committee of the bankers' association. Besides the entire membership of that committee, the state college was represented by J. Phil Campbell, director of extention, and a large number of his field force; the state federation was represented by Mrs. Don T. Barnes, state chairman of agricultural co-operation, and the American Bankers' Association by H. Lane Young, chairman, and Dan H. Otis, of Madison, Wis., director of its agricultural commission.

Processing farm products includes for the Full on National Bank, and Robert Strickland Jr., vice president of the Trust Company of Georgia.

Polls in Incorporated Towns Open at 7 a. m. and Close at 6 p. m.

Wulton and DeKalh county voters. nearly 50,000 strong, will have an opportunity today of expressing their choice for the next president of the United States and of helping to decide the fate of eight proposed amendments to the Georgia constitution.

A total of 38,998 persons, white and colored, are eligible to vote in Fulton county, which includes the former Milton and Campbell counties. DeKalb county has 9,000 registered voters.

Polling places in Atlanta, Decatur and other incorporated municipalities where there are two or more polling precincts will open at 7 o'clock this morning and close at 6 o'clock tonight. Polls in the rural districts and towns with only one precinct will open at 8 o'clock this morning and close at 3. o'clock this morning and close at o'clock this afternoon. Election officials pointed out that voters in the rural districts who are unable to get to their home precinct polling places before 3 o'clock in the afternoon can vote at the courthouse from 3 o'clock this afternoon to 6 o'clock tonight. Apart from the presidential election and the question of passing on con-stitutional amendments, DeKalb voters will have another interest in today's election. This is a race between Homer Howard, democratic nominee for tax commissioner, and A. G. Barnett, independent candidate, who entered against Howard after being defeated in the democratic primary.

In a statement issued by the DeKalb County Democratic League, it was said that the candidacy of Mr. Barnett as an independent raises an issue as to the stability of the white primary in Georgia. The league urged every local democrat to cast his or her ballot for the duly nominated candidate of the party.

The governor described his cam-paign and said: "These many weeks have been crowded with action, mo-tion, change. They have been marked facts do not tell the story. I have traveled many miles—it doesn't mat-ter exactly how many. I have visited many states-the number isn't significant. Significant Memories.

"Each of these memories and many others have their individual significance to me. If I can catch them all together and give them vitality and meaning and life, I shall have fulfilled the purpose of my travels. These people, all of them—these neighbors of each and every state—have made one thing clear: They have expressed some hope in the future, confidence that things will be better. I set out to learn, more than to teach. All of you, east and west and north and south, have helped me.

"And you have graciously helped me, too. You may not universally have agreed with me, but you have universally been kind and friendly to me. The great understanding and tolerance of America came out to meet me—everywhere. For all you have my heartful gratitude.

Twelve years ago when the republicans wrested control of the government from the democrats the country was in a condition of comparative prosperity, despite the fact that it had emerged only two years previous from participation in the most devastating war of all time.

Under the Coolidge administration prosperity reached its fullness, and the bubble burst under the Hoover administration.

Not until a prostrate people, and democratic majority in the house, demanded that a seemingly som for restoration of normalcy, did President Hoover move to turn the forces of government against de-

Cold, unemotional, difficult to approach and with no personal magnetism, the president is unusually lacking in intimates or close friends, political or personal, even in the ranks of his own party.

Opposed to such a negative personality, from a political point of view, the democratic party presents in Franklin D. Roosevelt a candidate possessing to a remarkable degree those attributes which the people have admired in their leaders since the days of Washington.

A man of strong, commanding figure, Roosevelt's expressive and mobile face echoes the rare combination of strength and sweetness of character which has endeared him to the hundreds of thousands who campaign to glimpse his flashing eyes and his winning smile.

Above all, the average American loves a fighter who keeps on against apparently insurmountable odds. The nation knows that Franklin D. Roosevelt did that in battling back to vigorous health from an afflica man not blessed with his indomitable will to win.

Today the people of America will vote to put their government, and their hope for rescue from their present plight, in the hands of a man who has shown himself to be

You Might Feel as Righteous as Those You Envy If You Were as Easy to Satisfy -By Robert Quiller-

Strange as it seems in a land of theoretical equality, the handicap responsible for the greatest number of failures is a feeling of inferiority. In some instances this pathological humility is caused by want of education: in others by poverty; but the most frequent cause, in young righteous than others.

If you are one of these, indict yourself no more. If you are inno cent of capital crimes, you doubtless are as "good" as your most selfrighteous critic. True good people would condemn you if they knew your fault; but without exception they are guilty of other sins, trivial in their own sight, which are in truth no less heinous than yours.

They feel guiltless because their self-respect is so great as to make wrong thing they do seem right, but vanity doesn't alter facts. If all transgressions were judged by one capable of honest thinking, those who feel most righteous might be astonished to find themselves rated little above the chief of sinners, Compare the fast driver and the counterfeiter. Neither is guilty of a crime evil in itself. Both are guilty of violating the law. offenses are similar in that neither could result in harm if perfectly done. And the law in both cases is designed to protect the public. Legally, morally and ethically the two offenders are as alike as two black-eyed peas. But are they equally condemned by the good? Certainly not. The good enjoy fast driving and have neither the ability nor the inclination to counterfeit money. Therefore speeding is blameless and counterfeit ng wicked. Smuggling is now condemned, but there was a time when the best citizens of America encouraged it and shared its profits. Self-respecting people do no evil in their own sight, but it doesn't follow that they are blameless. Wrong remains wrong, though the very elect indulge in it. The rigidly righteous brother who loathes and despises the tow drunkard may think himself blameless, but in truth few sins are greater than his own malice and uncharitableness.

Hate evil where you see it. But don't blame yourself too much because others blame themselves too little. The only people free of remorse are those who forgive themselves too easily.

Doctors said his improved condition, brought about by a blood transfusion Saturday, indicated he has a chance for recovery unless pneumonia or other complications set in. No symptoms of pneumonia have as yet developed, they said.

Carried to the hospital with his lung punctured and his spinal column severed by the gunman's bullet, Chappell was believed to be dying. His young wife, who saw him shot down at Third and West Peachtree streets as she sat waiting for him in an automobile, gave the blood for the transfusion.

Suppose Diamonds Cost No More Than Glass

IMPOSSIBLE? No at all. Every day there are people, here in A anta, who purchase articles of the finest quality and pay no more than others spend for cheaper things.

Especially is this true when the time comes to choose a funeral director. Many families come to Spring Hill, obtaining a degree of beauty and comfort seldom equalled. Others deny themselves this consolation because of a mistaken idea about charges. Yet a beautiful tribute at Spring Hill is actually lower in cost. A larger volume of patronage makes this possible.

Constitution's Cooking School

"Modern kitchen equipment makes cooking a gay adventure," Mrs. Frances Y. Kline, noted authority from the consumers' service department of General Foods, said on the eve of the opening of The Constitution's cooking school this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the tearoom of the Davison-Paxon Company.

Miss Daisy Harris, of General Foods, will assist Mrs. Kline in staging the show. Today the Davison-Paxon Company's tearoom will serve the following recipe demonstrated by Mrs. Kline:

Pineapple Tarte Cake.

Pineapple Tarte Cake.

Anappie Tarte Cake.

4 2-3 cups cake flour
4 1-2 teaspoonsful baking powder
1-2 teaspoonsful salt cup shortening cups sugar
eggs, well beaten
1 1-2 cups milk
teaspoonful vanilla.
Cover cake with meringue, then top ream.

Cover cake with meringue, then top with shredded pineapple and whip cream.

One sheet, 32 servings.

Many things have happened to cooking since the days of Queen Elizabeth, when all cooking was done either over an open fire or in a brick oven, Mrs. Kline points out. Present-day gas stoves, equipped with various types of heat control, and various combination cookers, make cooking not only an easy but a fascinating occupation. Nowadays, cooking equipment plays a big part in the decoration of the kitchen. Modern, correct color ensembles have been created in accord with the best decorative principles. The various enameled vessels come in new exquisite colors that harmonize with all approved kitchen color schemes. And because these combinations of color are almost limitless, the modern housewife can enjoy a distinctive individual ensemble of her own choosing.

y Wood's contribution to contemporary literature is the most interesting events of the fall publishing sea-Mr. Woods' contribution is a book about that highly versial game of football.

rry Wood was one of the most highly publicized stars of years, having graduated from Harvard with high scholnors a year ago. He was in the furious limelight for years. He was not only a star football player but a brilice hockey player.

Mr. Wood's book was written without the aid of any journalistic ectoplasm or "ghost" writer. Wood was not only an athlete of great ability but he was a Phi Beta Kappa man with several points to spare.

The book is a very fine defense of football. It is most insting to read his reactions. It has been my opinion that the tics of football have seized on a few outstanding evils and ide them apply to the entire game. The same evils might found in the shoe business or the glue business or the sports iting business but would not apply to the businesses as a

THE BIG ARGUMENT.

One of the greatest arguments has been, "Why, of course t is wrong. Look at the big gates. And the big crowds." This has always stumped me because football isn't a commercial racket. It supports all other sports. And has paid for gymnasiums and fine athletic plants at no cost to the state or the universities. And I've never been able to see where a big gate was an evil. At any rate the big gates have now disappeared but I do not know if the enemies of the game have relented: Wood says, after a few chapters of his personal experi-

"In the course of our brief investigation of modern football, we have reached several definite conclusions, which we might re-

"(1) The 'grind' of football is a thing of the past.
"(2) The chance of being fatally injured while playing football has been greatly exaggerated. Proper preventive medical care will eliminate many unnecessary injuries.

"(3) Scouting and coaching are very much more compli-cated than the average spectator realizes.

"(4) The 'Monday morning quarterback's' criticism is mean-ess, for seldom is it based upon a knowledge of facts. "(5) Football is not overemphasized by players, coaches or athletic directors, but by the spectator.

"(6) The newspaper reporter cannot be blamed for the 'color figures' and feature stories of the sport page; the public demands

(7) Large gate receipts do not make football a commercial racket; its revenues support the entire athletic program of the

"The investigations backstage have led in almost every case to conclusions which contradict the football critic. We find that the 'evils' which he vehemently denounces, in some cases no longer, or perhaps never did, exist. The reader might think that in disagreeing with the critic, and apparently minimizing the 'evils' of the game, we are of the opinion that modern football has reached a state of perfection and that the reformer is speaking out of turn. Such a state of affairs would be extremely satisfactory, but unfortunately the present football situation is not

BLAMES PUBLIC TASTE.

"The critic finds fault with the player, the coach and the game itself, while from our point of observation we would blame public taste for football's peculiar status. The spectator, especially the enthusiastic graduate, seems to forget that football is a game and not a matter of life and death. The 'Monday morning quarterback' would not criticize wildly, alumnus fanaticus would not write personal letters to the head coach, the hero racket would die a natural death, and overemphasis would become obsolete, if the public could regard a football game as an athletic contest between two college teams with no more at stake than in a crew race or a track meet.

'The college football player of today is changing his attitude toward football; to him it is a game played for fun, and no longer is it a battle against the enemy. As he listens to the talk and reads the letters of the players of the old school, he wonders if they have yet sensed this change. But our visit to the flield, the locker room, the press box and the office of the director is of little avail if the best we can do is to suggest that the reformer set to work to alter mass opinion.

"A constructive suggestion stares us in the face. Several times we have mentioned the importance of sound athletic administra-'Mens sana in corpore sana' has not lost is meaning. In college athletics today, the position of the athletic director is as important as that of any member of the faculty. A college president strictly statement, and may be content to struggle along with the incompetent director or no director at all; but one thing is certain-his students will engage in athletics, including football, and his college will be accused of hiring athletes, overemphasizing football and commercializing the game. The reformer, then, rather than condemn modern football should turn his critical eye toward the athletic director and demand that college presidents appoint honest, competent men to fill this responsible position, men who will employ proper coaches, doctors and trainers, who will eliminate ballyhoo in every way possible, free the college from any taint of commercialism, and utilize this game with its tremendous public appeal for a purpose worthy of the ideals of sport and education."

NO REAL DIFFERENCE.

There cannot be any real difference between the handling of football at Harvard and at Georgia Tech or at Vanderbilt or other southern schools.

Barry Wood must know what he is writing about. His opinion must be given considerably more weight than that of a college professor who is viewing the game from a cloister and with no first-hand experience to sustain his opinions. Wood is a man of intelligence and is able to see and point out certain evils which need

He is certainly correct in his assertion that it is the spectator and not the players, coaches or newspapers who overemphasize the game. And he is certainly correct in stating that I football is no longer a grind or something which a player accepts because he will be criticized if he does not. Either Wood, who was a star athlete, an honor student and a man of great personality, knows what he is talking about or those who "deplored" the game are correct.

Wood knows both the academic side of college life and the athletic side. I would go along with Wood even were I not connected with the reporting of football.

JUST ONE GAME.

Intercollegiate competition and closely supervised high and prep school competition is the only football which a boy should be permitted to play.

I have kept a file of the injuries of this season. All of them, with two exceptions, have occurred in the ranks of poorly supervised high school teams, in "independent" teams which "scrub up" on Saturdays and Sundays, and in semi-professional ranks.

The overemphasis of the overemphasis charges against college football is apparent. The depression has removed the big gate. This means that college baseball, basketball, track and intramural sports will suffer because football pays the bill.

There are few universities and colleges where the system is abused. Coaches of the type of Alonzo Stagg, at Chicago, predominate in the game.

Football was something of a wilderness crying for a voice and I think Mr. Barry Wood has supplied it.

Green Wave To Meet Improved Wildcat Team Saturday.

By the Associated Press.

Tulane's Green Wave, almost-halted by Georgia Tech Saturday, rushes into even more danger this week against Kentucky, at Lexington.

The Greenies have had tough battles on their hands every contest for the past month. Georgia threatened seriously, Vanderbilt gained a tie, Auburn won, South Carolina threw them a real scare and Georgia Tech led into the fourth period.

Kentucky has had little to shout about of late. Kentucky has played well all season but after winning four games the Wildcats were beaten by Virginia Poly, Alabama and Duke. The Blue Grass eleven had Alabama beaten until the final minutes and made twice as many first downs as did Duke only to have the Blue Devils stop six definite goalward marches.

In the Duke game Kentucky paraduting on the goal line this season gath-

For a speedy scoring spurt among Southern conference football stars, Don Zimmerman, of Tulane, takes the palm with three touchdowns against Georgia Tech, but John Cain, of Alabama, is still the titular leader with 60 points.

Zimmerman crossed Tech's goal line of three separate trips to raise his total to 57 points, three behind Cain and one behind Casey Kimbrell, of Auburn, scoreless since he made three touchdowns against Duke weeks ago. Cain played against Virginia Polytechnic but failed to register a marker.

Jimmy Hitchcock, Auburn's prize backfield man, took a sudden rise up with the scoring elect, too. Hitchcock's two touchdowns against bow to kick the extra point, was very proud of his protege's performance by veterans like Laws, Goldsmith, Hart and Neblett. Pewee Williams and Dave Wilcox, sophomore tackle and guard, respectively, also turned in splendid showings. Wilcox's accuracy in booting the two extra points would have insured Tech the game, 14 to 13, but for the last-minute touchdown by the Greenies which was awarded despite a fumble by Zimmerman.

Bobby Dodd, who has taken a special pride in teaching young Wilcox asked one of those standing around waiting to create trunning and other fine performances by veterans like Laws, Goldsmith, Hart and Neblett.

An added attraction is scheduled for next Saturday in the Tennessee-Vanderbilt battle. Besides fighting for conference team honors, two backfield stars will be contesting for scoring honors in an effort to untie what is at present a hard knot. Beattle Feathers, of Tennessee, and Dixie Roberts, of Vanderbilt, are even at 54 points, and next Saturday will find them straining at the leashes of the tie.

Elliott Addresses Tech Team Today

"Dad" Elliott, well known as a former star end at Northwestern University and now making a nation-wide lecture tour under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., will address the Georgia Tech football squad this afternoon at the regular practice on Grant field.

Elliott, here at the invitation of the Y. M. C. A., will talk on the close association of athletics and clean living.

"Maybe a good sermon will bring us some luck," said Coach W. A. Alexander, whose football team has just lost a tough game to Tulane.

PAGE EIGHT THE CONSTITUTION, ATLANTA, GA., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1932.

The Blue Grass eleven had Alabama beaten until the final minutes and made twice as many first downs as did Duke only to have the Blue Devils at the stop six definite goalward marches.

In the Duke game Kentucky paraded one of the best backs in the south, Ellis Johnson. He probably "ill give Tulane many anxious moments. Then Ralph Kercheval, the punting quarterback, who was held out of the Duke and most of the Alabama contests, probably will recover from his injuries enough to play against the New Orleans team.

The Wildcat forward wall may hold its own with Tulane's and the Kentucky ends, Rupert and Kreuter, are two of the best and may succeed in throttling the flank sweeps of Don Zimmerman.

Louisiana State, one of the four unbeaten conference teams, also meets a formidable foe in Centenary College at Shreveport, La.

BOOSTS SCORING

Backets decreased the sackets decreased in the sackets decreased to the seenson.

Kentcky, who wor, 12-6, and Tulane, who was victor by 20-14, each beat the struggling Engineers on "fluky" touchdowns. Auburn won, 6-0, on a wet field. A tough break on a batted pass beat Tech that day. The Jackets expected to lose to Auburn and Vandy, two of the conference's unbeaten teams, but held out strong hope of beating Kentucky and Tulane. Fate robbed them of a triumph in both cases. So there seems nothing to do but go ahead and take them as they come. Thus far. Tech has had all the sour break's and none of the good ones.

Georgia's Bulldogs, after a warm welcome home, will resume football practice over at Athens today with some idea of how the Chicago Cubs must have felt when they left the Yankee stadium. Columbia - Brown Game Heads Eastern Football Parade.

University.

(Copyright, 1932, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—While Colgate, Pittsburgh, Columbia and Brown, the last three in the severest kind of competition, kept their pace in the unbeaten football brigade of the east, there were some other highly worthwhile developments on the gridirons of this section. this section.

One as the overpowering showing of army's hard-blocking and beautifully drilled squad against Harvar at Cambridge. Here was one of the greatest exhibitions of deft magnitude. greatest exhibitions of deft main-power the season has seen. I recall mentioning soon after the early-season defeat of Army by Pittsburgh that that setback was no reason why Army should not continue to be numbered among the leading squads of the east.

Day, likely will draw its challenge from one of three eastern teams—
Brown, Colgate or Pittsburgh.
Two of them, Brown and Colgate, battle it out at Providence on Thanksgiving Day to insure at least a past.

With Major Ralph Sasse directing the development of this great squad in his final season of coaching. I can only say that college football must regret the Army duties which oblige him soon to drop the reins.

Judging from reports I have of the 46-0 game at Cambridge, it is doubtful whether any team in the east or the country could have defeated Army Saturday. The score, however, haidly does Harvard justice. The Crim son will come back to be a good team, especially against Yale, with the return of Hallowell to center and with men who played with injuries against the Cadets coming back to full strength.

FORDHAM-ST, MARY, Two other results which stand out are the intersectional victories of Fordham over St. Marys and New York University over Georgia. They are a pair of triumpla in which pro-ponents of eastern football may take a good deal of pride, partly because they marked smart comebacks after earlier defeats.

Both games were won in clean-cut fashion and Fordham, defeating the St. Mary's outfit, which have no defeat while meeting some best on the Pacific coast, Major Cavanaugh's la team will be dangered. The N. Y. U.-For Saturday takes on bama and Tulane, again may produce an outstanding contender. Tennessee and Auburn have the best chances to win Dixie's championship honors but neither has played a schedule calculated to "build up" and invitation to the Pacific coast.

Michigan and Purdue, powerhouses of middle western gridirons, well might be considered in Rose.

of middle western gridirons, well might be considered in Rose bowl calculations but for the fact that, regardless of how strong they finish, the Big Ten conference does not favor post-season engagements.

Columbia's policy also would be against acceptance of an invitation, even if tendered. West Point's brilliant team will not be permitted to consider any engagements after playing the Navy at Philadelphia December 3. The Cadets made their first and probably last trans-continental trip three years ago to play Stanford

Both teams will have to come back from the bruising tests of last Saturday. Columbia is hoping against hope that Montgomery will be ready for full duty, and is worried about the almost negligible chance of Dzamba to come back to action at guard. It was a great battle that Pennsylvania put up before dropping into the ranks of the beaten before Pitt's attack.

It might be imagined that Robby Dodd is prejudiced and he no doubt is. He was, if it need be told, as after of great magnitude for there years at Tennessee. He was good enough to be on the All-American teams.

HIS ARGUMENTS.

But Boby Dodd had arguments, accurate arguments, as the standard transport of the tennessees. The masses will assent the standard of major rivals.

In games outside the ranks of the leaders, Villanova's grashing win over Boston College, which had beaten Fordham a week earlier; Wesleyan's 13-6 triumph over its old rival, Williams; Maine's close decision over Bowdoin; Rutger's 7-6 shave over Lafayette and Duquesne's convincing margin against Washington and Jefferson were some of the features of Ruch, who is 71, resigned because of ill health, it was announced. He had been president since the death years ago, of William F. Baker.

Georgetown, in its first game under the newly installed coaching system, did quite as well as could have been a vest Virginia squad which on some days has been a really powerful team.

Georgia Loses Stars For Clemson Contest

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 7.-Georgia's Bulldogs came home to Athens ATTICKS, Ca., Nov. 7.—Georgia's Buildings came nome to Attend this morning and received a warm welcome from the Georgia band and a few score of the faithful who arose long before sunrise to greet the valiant warriors who made such a gallant stand against N. Y. U. Saturday.

Athenians and students provided enough cars to transport the team to Costas' where the Brothers Costa were hosts to the Bulldog party at a piping hot breakfast. These breakfasts at Costas' are always a part of the welcome the Bulldogs get when they return from eastern invasions. Win or lose, the Costa boys bave that hot breakfast and Word from Coach Harry Mehre tonight was to the effect that Freddie Miller, the great little end, and Leroy Young, who has been doing most of the quarterbacking, will not be able to play against doing most of the quarterbacking, will not be able to play against Clemson Friday. Both played a great part of the game against Violets and suffered slight injuries. Young has an injured arm. Jack Griffeth, who quarterbacked the team on the march that ended on the New York one-yard line, will probably start at quarterback Friday, while either Dick Maxwell or Charley Turbyville will play Miller's end.

The Bulldogs enjoyed the day off this afternoon but Tuesday they begin work anew. The only scrimmage of the week will come Wednesday with a light workout set for Thursday. They will go to Clemson by bus Friday morning.

There were any number of ways in which that young Georgia team had kicked one point already, running up and down the sidelines, warming up just for that purpose when N. Y. U. got the break of the year.

And another thing. If the Violets had not had the alert Mr. Bob Mchad not had the alert Mr. Bob Mcso Mr. Stegeman put it. There were many bright spots in Georgia's play to look back upon, however, and these should make supporters of the Bulldogs feel very good about their team's chances against Auburn two weeks hence.

AUBURN MEETS FLORIDA NEXT

Shot Senn Is Praised for Good Work Against Howard.

AUBURN, Ala., Nov. 7.—Proud posssessors of a record this season of seven wins in as many starts, which gives them recognition as one of the greatest gridiron machines in the United States, Coach Chet Wynne's Auurn Tigers will meet Coach Charlie achman's University of Florida 'Gars at Cramton Bowl in Montgomery turday in their fourth and final aparance in the Cradle of the Democry this year.

To compile a perfect record and rein in the race of Southern conferse and National championship hone, the Tigers have bowled over such formidable opposition as Birmingham-Southern, 61 to 0; Erskine, 77 to 0; Duke, 18 to 7; Georgia Tech, 6 to 0; Tulane, 1931 conference champs, 19 to 7; University of Mississippi, 14 to 7, and Howard, 25 to 0.

Andurn's 220 points in seven games, a verge of a fraction over 31 points.

Auburn's 220 points in seven games, an average of a fraction over 31 points per game, gives the Plainsmen a fore-most position as a high scoring eleven among the nation's untied and unde-

Tennessee and Auburn lead in the pressing hard.

The three remaining foes on the Bengals' 1932 card, Florida, Georgia and South Carolina, are all gunning for Wynne's fine and well-spirited club because they would count their season unusually successful if they could knock Auburn out of the championship race. Saying that Auburn is really on the count knock Adourn out of the chain-pionship race. Saying that Auburn is really on the spot is putting it lightly. The Tigers will be put on three spots when they clash with the Saurians, Bulldogs and Gamecocks.

sting nation-wide campaigns of many three spots when they clash with the Saurians, Bulldogs and Gamecocks.

Auburn is now in a slump as evidenced by her showings against Ole Miss and Howard, but it is believed that the Tigers will snap out of their lethargic playing and perform up to standard in Montgomery Saturday, in Columbia. S. C., December 3. The Tigers will have to play their best football of the season if Florida, Georgia and South Carolina are downed.

The showing of Shot Senn, senior right end from Troy, in the Howard game was pleasing to the Plainsmen mentors. He displayed ability as a superb clocker and crashed through once when the Bulldogs were kicking and recovered a blocked punt. After recovering the attempted kick, he ran for a touchdown, which several griding recovered the calfskin on the bounce. Senn's tackling was also excellent. Senn's tackling was also Hughes, with one year of varsity experience, is an exceedingly aggressive player, and had been Bachman's regular fullback, but his understudy. Stoltz, has shown too much power to occupy the bench, so Hughes was named to the post which Sam Davis has held for the past two games.

Seeking a ma

auditorium last night. The first fall was won by Hesslyn in 20 minutes after securing a painful cradle hold which forced Lever to give up. The second fall was awarded Lever after eight minutes of headlocks and body slams. Coming back strong for the last fall, Hesslyn applied a series of head spins and body slams and won after four minutes. The match was fast and full of action.

In the semi-windup Jack Ross defeated Jack Evans, of Dallas, Texas, with a series of flying headlocks in 19 minutes.

A special match of 30 minutes be-tween George Harbin, of Atlanta, and Bobby Stewart, of Salt Lake City, went the limit with plenty of action. Stewart, somewhat of a clown, amused Stewart, somewhat of a clown, amused the crowd by making faces at Al Belle Isle and others at the ringside. The card was opened with three 15-minute matches between local boys. It was announced before the matches that 60 per cent of the proceeds would go to the state campaign fund for the democratic party.

This football campaign of 1932 seems to be working itself out in surviving pairs, as far as the mid-November count stands at present. Brown, Colgate and Columbia go bowling along unbeaten in the east, but it is a good two-team race so far in most other sectors.

An Interesting Triangle.

The Yale-Princeton game will be something to see this week, but the most interesting triangle now comprises Brown, Columbia and Colgate—not Harvard, Yale and Princeton.

It is a new leading set-up or scenic effect under eastern skies.

All three have won every game. On Saturday, Brown and Columbia fight it out, and later on Brown moves against Colgate. If the Brown Bear can outclaw the Columbia Lion, that Colgate-Brown melee will be one of the tall peaks of the waning season.

Colgate has been rated with a Colgate has been rated with a trifle more all-around strength, but Colgate so far has been called upon to face no such opposition as Columbia and Brown have known to date. Colgate still nas an improving Syracuse team in the road, and Vic Hanson's young team should be much stronger Saturday than it has been all year.

year. Judging returns up to date, the Yale-Princeton meeting will provide better football than the Harvardhetter football than the Harvard-Yale date later on.

Harvard, losing an entire veteran backfield from 1931, has been well below expected strength. Outplayed by Dartmouth, cornered and stopped completely by Brown, annihilated by Army, Harvard now faces Holy Cross and Yale with meiancholy prospects for any big revival.

STATE LUMBER RATES FOUND UNREASONABLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Carload rates on lumber from Warsaw and Wadley, Ga., to Boston and other points in Massachusetts have been found "to have been unreasonable" by the interstate commerce commission.

The ruling was made in the case of the Johnson Battle Lumber Company against the Ocean Steamship Company of Savannah, the Seaboard Airline Railway Company and the Central of Georgia Railway Company.

The rates charges for the rail movements to Savannah, the whender ments to Savannah, the wharfage transfers at Savannah and Boston, and the rail movements from Boston were not assailed. Testimony was adduced only as to the unreasonableness of the rates for the movements from Savannah to Boston.

The commission found that the rates assailed were unreasonable to the extent that the factors from Savannah to Boston exceeded 19 cents on shipments delivered at the pier in Boston and 20 cents on the other shipments; that the Battle Lumber Company made the shipments described and bore the charges thereon at ed and bore the charges thereon at ed and bore the charges thereon at the rates found unreasonable; that it had been damaged in the amount of the difference between the charges borne and those which had accrued at the rates found reasonable; and that it was entitled to reparation in the sum of $188.77 with interest. Commissioners McNapamy, Brainerd and Lee rendered the decision.

VERDICT IS REVERSED IN $50,000 RAIL SUIT

Mrs. Rebecca Weinstein Wins Battle for Trial of Claim in Death of Son.

NEW ORLEANS. Nov. 7.—(P)—
The United States fifth circuit court of appeals Monday reversed the southern district federal court of Georgia in the suit for $50,000 damaes brought against the receivers of the Seaboard Air Line Railway Company by Mrs. Rebecca Weinstein for the death of ther son, Max, at a railroad crossing at Jones, Ga., February 28, 1931.

The district court had dismissed the suit on demurrers filed by the railroad. In reversing the lower court the appeals court remanded the case for trial, holding there was evidence indicating the railroad was negligent. The plaintiff contended that the truck young Weinstein was driving was young Weinstein was driving was struck by an unscheduled extra train-traveling at excessive speed, ap-proaching the crossing without giving whistle signal warning and that the ustomary flagman was not present o warn motorists of an approaching

Alacia, beautifui, young, with a poise of unlimited wealth, had enough of her father's clear brain and sense of justice to appreciate her situation in its exactitude. She understood why her mother had not attempted to buck social barriers in America, but had instead slipped swiftly and easily into those Paris circles which, while neither exclusive nor stable, were frequently touched by Americans of distinction, who excused themselves for their Paris acquaintances on the grounds that any Parisian friendship was necessarily only temporary. Thus the Sayers had some distinguished friends; friends, too, of unknown backgrounds; no distinguished friends; friends, too, of unknown backgrounds; sometimes of too well-known hackgrounds, and any umbor of floridly titled acquaintances. It was a society wherein a properly cut suit of clothes constituted a gentleman and the right hats a lady. Nobody asked too many questions, their social register was the daily column haded "Americans in Europe" in the pages of the Paris Herald, and behind this shifting group of gay inconsequentials loomed the permanent grey mystery of the "real French aristociarcay," a fixed society of unknown quantity into which individuals of the Anglo-American crowd claimed to plunge occasionally, on the whole it was a pleasant and amusing enough little world, without embarrassment for the newly rich, All this lay subconsciously in the back of Alacia Sayers' mind as she bathed and dressed in the historican coffee, jam and brioche. The restless discontent which would note the sleep late, combined with a natural vigor and a wholesome longing for the country, was driving her towards the open. Her bright hair was quickly tucked into a small beret, a loose tweed coat with ample pockets was slipped on over a surprisingly shabby old dress, and Alacia was ready. At the door of her sitting room she encountered Ernestine, her away to the audience, and this in itself should prove an additional attraction.

At the rehearsals Mrs. Green Warren, children's play chairman, brings order out of confusion with her charming manner, and her able assistant, Miss Margaret Nelson, song chairman, is equally influential. Mrs. Deloney Sledge, music chairman, sits at the piano banging out the gay tunes, constantly changing or transposing to suit any voice or to fit a posing to suit any voice or to fit a new rhythm. Mrs. Hobart Carson, costume chairman, goes quietly about taking measurements or arranging for possible alterations on the costumes already arrived from Pasadena, while Mrs. William Warren, properties chairman, searches the script of the play so that she may have on hand when the curtain rises all the objects the actors must handle in any way during the show.

Other chairmen not seen at the rehearsals are, however, striving equally hard to make "The Golden Goose" a success. Scarcely any of us realize that a great deal of the scenery is being made by artistic Junior League members right here in Atlanta. Many beautiful effects have already been achieved by Mrs. E. P. Ansley, scenery chairman; Mrs. Emory Cocke, cochairman, and a corps of assistants. Mrs. Joseph Cooper, in spite of hard times, has performed a miracle by getting up a program with real advertisements and everything and the Junior League is very proud of her. Mrs. John O. Chiles, chairman of tickets, and Mrs. A. T. Orme Jr., chairman of ushers, are busy soliciting the aid of a number of Junior League girls, and members are asked to volunteer if they wish to help in either capacity.

Friday, November 11, the Atlanta Junior League will hold its monthly meeting at the Piedmont Driving Club at 3 o'clock. On the notification cards mailed to the members is a request for clothing of any sort which will be given to deserving families through the unemployment relief headquarters. Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's ne trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Piner; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine.

Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

FRIENDLY COUNSEL

Dear Miss Chatfield:

I am a young man of 27 and, sorry to say, a disappointed man, socially. I have most of the things of a worldly sort that I desire; a job, a savings account, good clothes, a car and other things that I need not mention. I have good habits and am ambitious—but in spite of all this I can't find a suitable mate. Most of the girls I know don't do anything but eat and sleep, smoke, drink and pet. They lie in bed till noon, waste their time in the afternoon and then put on a front at night. I don't want one of these for a wife, no matter how much I enjoy being with her for a few hours. Can the trouble be with me? Is it too late at 27 to find a proper mate? REGULAR READER.

"I am an old-fashioned girl and when I tell you this I don't have to add that I am lonely. The modern man is not interested in any girl that won't go the limit with him in smoking, drinking, petting. There seems to be no premium put upon the old-fashioned virtues by the man of today. Yet some of us had rather be lonely than loose."

They have never had the opportunity to go around much with the men and while they have been shut up at home with sickness the social pace has become faster and faster and has now gained such momentum that they can't catch up with it. Draw your own conclusions, reader, space doesn't permit the printing of more letters, but they lie on the desk, eloquent reminders that modern methods of meeting the men half way in their improper approaches to love and life net the women nothing but regret and the men nothing but a feeling of repulsion toward these women.

Mr. Leslie Whitmer, of Sioux City, Iowa, sent me the hand below, which presents a problem of rather enthusiastic bidding—the bidding of three Grand Slams, one of them a defensive measure, and the final passing of the opportunity to defeat the contract by an Opening lead, only to see the Declarer fail to realize the possibilities of his cards, and instead of making his contract, be defeated 2 tricks for a penalty of 1,200 points. Certainly the hands presents plenty of drama, the bidding being manifestly too strong but the playing situation being very interesting. Double. Instead of reading the diamond 7, the card actually chosen by North, as a fourth-best lead and thus assuring himself of 3 tricks in diamonds, he played the King, then took the heart finesse, ran down six rounds of hearts, two rounds of clubs, and then the Ace of diamonds, following with a low diamond, which North won, and cashed another diamond. This is the actual story, but consider it from the standpoint of what could have happened had West played accurately after the diamond lead. The 7 of diamonds would have been won with the Ten in Dummy, the heart finesse taken at once, and when this won, all the hearts would have been run down, the Ace and King.

this won, all the hearts would have been run down, the Ace and King of clubs and the Ace of diamonds cashed. West would then have held the Ace-Queen of spades and the diamond 4. North could have held but three cards in spades and diamonds. The Dummy—the East hand—would have contained two diamonds and one spade. Whether the Declarer had made 4 diamond tricks and only 1 spade trick would have depended entirely upon the three cards which ductor.

THE famous 10-Minute recipe for Cranberry Sauce. Try it—you will find it a treat. Nothing quite like this sauce for flavor with hot or cold meats. Serve as a side dish.

Make it this way ... Boil 2 cups of water and 1½ to 3 cups of sugar together 5 minutes, then add 4 cups Eatmor Cranberries. Boil without stirring (5 ninutes is usually sufficient) u minutes is usually supposent and cill the skins pop open. Remove from fire when the popping stops, and allow the sauce to remain in vessel undisturbed until cool.

Strength in stocks was well distributed and well maintained from the opening. The so-called "wet" group again attained some prominence and there was a fair demand for rails. Nevertheless, steels, chemicals, coppers and utilities kept in the foreground; with wheat on the mend issues of companies whose welfare is linked closely to farm prices forged ahead. Case, American Telephone, United States Steel common and preferred, American Can and a few others were gainers to the extent of 2 to 3 points net.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—There was much evidence the latter part of last week that important interests had accumulating the better class of stocks.

It would seem the belief of an important element in the financial district that business recovery will continue irrespective of election results,

It might also be assumed there are many who have the courage of their convictions and have accepted the innumerable reassuring statements is sued to shareholders by executives of industrial corporations, to the effect that general industry is undergoing a recovery.

Rumors are current that a big constructive pool has been formed to buy stocks. The buying now coming into stocks. The buyi

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The covering which appeared in the market on Friday and Saturday continued today and was accompanied by better prices in wheat. A stock exchange seat soid at $125,000. up $5,000 from change seat sold at $125,000, up $5,000 from the previous sale. Silver was up and spot copper was sharply higher in London. Sterling was practically unchanged. Shortly after election the dividend meetings of Union Facific and American Telephone take place and it was reported today that both are likely to continue their present rate of payments. Bank stocks were all higher. We should expect the present rally to continue for at least a few days after election.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Raw sugar was quiet today and in absence of business prices were unchanged at 3.10 for spots.

Nothing was firmly offered below 3.15. Some small quantities of Philippines were reported sold for November shipment at 3.03. but details were lacking.

There was only a small trade in futures, but despite the inactivity prices were firmer with the market closing net unchanged to 2 poins higher. The opening was unchanged to 1 point higher on a little covering and trade buying.

The continued steadiness in the spot market restricted offerings. Final prices were 6,900 tons. December closed 1.05. January 1.01. March 96, May 1.01, July 1.04, September 1.09.

The refined situation was unchanged with all refiners listing at 4.25 for fine granulated and second hands available at around 4.17.

Whoever the successful candidate there appears little doubt that the passing of the political campiagin into history will improve prospects of business resiming its responsiveness to fundamental influences which in present instance appear generally constructive.

BEER & CO.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Buying at the opening today found offerings very thin and active stocks jumped ahead in the first half-hour, in some cases gaining half a point or more between sales. After the first upturn progress was more deliberate and the early gains were therely maintaind without being much extended. At the close, however, buying was more urgent than selling and substantial gain for the day was registered in the averages.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The National Union Mortgage Company of this city today advanced a plan to the holders of its 5 1-2 per cent gold bolds to pay 25 per cent of the face amount in cash and extend the remainder for a period of five years.

The organization, a holding company owning the bonds of eight separate mortgage companies which are deposited as collateral for its own bonds, has maturing during the next current year and the following 365day period $1,031,500 of bonds which cannot be paid in full.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 7.—(P)— The New Orleans, Great Northern Railroad Company was placed in re-ceivership here today as a result of a suit to foreclose mortgages against

I. G. Tigrett, Jackson, Tenn., president of the company, was named sole receiver by Federal Judge E. R. Holmes.

Holmes.

The proceeding, according to officials of the road, does not in any manner involve the Gulf, Mobile and Northern Railroad Company, which has been operating the New Orleans, Great Northern under a lease.

The road served wide timber sections of Mississippi and Louisiana. Headquarters are maintained in New Orleans.

PART-TIME WORKERS

TO GET REGULAR JOBS PINE BLUFF. Ark., Nov. 7.—(P)

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(P)—The curb market climbed rather energetically for a time today, in contrast to its recent per formances, but it soon tired, and final prices were somewhat under the best.

'Trading quickened considerably, nevertheless, the turnover of some 200,000 shares representing the largest day's business since October 14. Short covering appeared to provide much of the demand and prices eased off. Electric Bond & Share continued to trade in greatest volume, and was up 2 1-2 points at the top, but it lost 2°1-2 points at the top, but it lost half its rise.

Aluminum Company was a strong spot in the industrials, mounting 4 points to close at 54. Among high-priced specialties, Great Atlantic & Pacific advanced 6 to 149.

Oils were mixed. Humble rose 2 points in a small turnover, and Gulf closed 3-4 of a point higher. Standard of Indiana. however. sagged 1-2.

of Indiana, however, sagged 1-2. STOCK VALUES DROP

IN MONTH'S TRADING NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The market value of all shares listed on the New York Stock Exchange dropped more than $3,000,000,000 in October.

Total valuation on November 1 w: $23,440,661,828, the exchange reported today, comparing with $26,734,828,668 on October 1. The average market value Yovember 1 was $17.88 a share against $20,39 on the earlier date. Borrowings by member firms against collateral on November 1 were 1.39 per cent of the market value compared with the October 1 loan ratio of 1.42 per cent. of 1-42 per cent.

The Roosevelt Business and Profes-The Roosevelt Business and Professional League, of which Charles B. Shelton, of the well-known law firm of Dorsey & Shelton, is Georgia state chairman, reported that 1,886 members have enrolled, contributing a total of $5,375.48.

Shareholders in America turned in $1,202 from the sale of medallions, and the Roosevelt Motor Club reported contributions of $1,025, making a grand total of $31,279.11.

NINE BANK ROBBERIES

ADMITTED BY BANDIT

MONROE, La, Nov. 7.—(P)—Slouched on a cot in the death cell of the Ounchita parish, jail here Sunday. Floyd Fullbright, 42-year-old bandit, told Sheriff Milton Coverdale that he had taken part in nine bank robberies since 1930.

Fulbright was brought here today from Paducah. Ky., to answer a capital charge at Winnsboro, La., growing out of the robbery of a bank at Baskin, La., last June.

Places in which he confessed staging robberies and the amount of loot obtained were given as follows:

Mazon, Ill., $1.300; Mundelein, Ill., $10,000; Delavan, Wis., $6,500; Milton Junction, Wis., $6,500; Ringwood, Ill., $3,000; Mundelein, Ill., $5,000; Maquoin, Ill., $33,000, and Delavan, Wis., $7.000.

Will the Vote Be Honest In This Illinois Precinct? CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—(P)—Julius Sheffler knows exactly how precinct 2 in Worth township is going i the election Tuesday, but he's mak-ing no predictions.

Julius is the only resident of the precinct—an outlying one in Cook county. Not only is he the solitary voter there, but also he is the election clerk and judge. It looked had for a while last week for Sheffler. His house burned and the po! books went up in smoke. The ballot box, however, was safe. It was in the barn. Tuesday Sheffler will drop his ballot in the box in the barn with his cows, chickens and several pigs looking on as witnesses.

TARZAN THE UNTAMED No. 122

Softly the door closed behind a slender Hindu woman, swathed in veils that left only her large dark eyes uncovered. A moment the mysterious visitor stood silently regarding Pat. Then she came

She spoke rapidly in a low, musical voice, using excellent English. "I am the Ranee," she said. "At my peril, I have come to warn you. Though I am the Maharajah's favorite wife, nothing would save closer to the girl.
